“ I didn't know him personally or serve with him in the A.F., a Strategic Air Command Bombing/Navigation Systems Tech buddy notified me of his passing. My sincere condolences to the family, may the Man upstairs give you the strength and courage to accept his will. If he was in SAC, he was dedicated and accepted the 24 hour a day maintenance at all hours of the day or night, rain, snow, heat, humidity, what ever it took to keep the Aircraft ready to launch at any given moment. Those of us that survive, mourn the loss of a Brother of the Bomb/Nav family. R.I.P. Binom, they must need an experienced member for that big SAC base in the sky.
