“ I enjoyed Brent's company immensely. Working beside him at the American Legion, both of us were officers, Brent being the Chief Financial officer and myself being the Adjutant. We helped to keep the membership going and growing. I really enjoyed mornings at Brookshire's, having coffee with him along with others that would join us, we bonded quite well. I guess our favorite thing was poking fun at each other. We would talk about anything and everything, sometimes I would complain about my aches and pains and he would say "that's what happens when you get old". Of course I would come back with that's a nice compliment from someone who is older than dirt.

We also shared the same birthday, with Brent being a few years older, and we would have lunch together for many years on that day. I have a special place in my heart for Brent for many reasons one being a good friend, but I thought of him as my older brother.

Brent you have gone home now, but you will never be forgotten.

Rest in peace.. my old friend rest in peace!
