“ My Uncle Bryant was a great guy. He worked all his life I think he told me he was 13 when he got his first real job and he worked out at Tyler Pipe for 30 years. He was like a big brother to me he was only 12 years older than I. When me and my sister were kids my Uncle had moved to Odessa and when he would come an visit he would bring us something as simple as a 6 pack of bottled cokes but they wernt regular bottles they were plastic and it was cool because East Texas hadn't gone to plastic bottles yet. We were easy to please. Heck we were just happy getting to see him. He drove a big Ol'two long hooded Orange Monte Carlo. Well as time went by he moved back to East Texas. He would talk about going out to the lake and goin to the Tyler Longriders MC rallies and I always thought that was cool. Well I got older and became a Biker and he and I would go out there together. Well he wound up buyin his first motorcycle a few years back it's a purdy GREEN Honda VTX 1300. Sad thing is he hadn't rode since he was a teenager, now his knees wernt stable so he and I NVR got to ride together. That's ok he rides with me in spirit. Bryant was a true Biker at Heart though. If he seen a guy broke down on his motorcycle he would stop. Uncle Bryant was a smooth soft talker and he was a talker lol. He could talk to you on the phone for hours or in person. Me n him would always talk about way back when never a dull conversation. Uncle Bryant I love and miss you like crazy. Love your "Punk" just know it's been a very very hard few weeks. We didn't get to tell you bye.

“Bryant is my Uncle. He was only 12 years older than I so he was kinda like a big brother to me. When me n my sister were kids he lived in Odessa and would come and visit us and he would bring us something as simple as a 6 pack of bottled cokes but they were cool they were in plastic bottles that was before cokes were put in plastic bottles here in East Texas. As I got older he would always talk about going out to the Tyler Longriders rallies and I thought how cool. Well then I got older and became a Biker and started inviting my Uncle out to their rallies with me. He always had his camera an tripod. He loved taking pictures of the beautiful motorcycles and I guess that's where I got that from. Then a few years ago he bought his first motorcycle and it was a beautiful GREEN Honda VTX 1300. Well he hadn't rode since he was a teenager and his legs wernt what they use to be. So he never got to ride. But I'll tell you this he was a Biker at heart and would pull over and help a biker out if one was broke down. Now he was a talker if you saw him callin and you didn't have an hour or two to talk well you would have to tell him you only got 30 mins to talk. Lol. Uncle Bryant I love and miss you dearly. I'll ride along your side in Heaven one day. Love your Punk. My Uncle was just a great guy.
