

Henry Christian Werth

September 21, 1917 - May 25, 2009

Henry Christian Werth Sept 21, 1917 – May 25, 2009

Henry Christian Werth went to be with the Lord on Memorial Day after a brief illness. Henry grew up in St. Louis Missouri. He became an All-State pitcher at Kirkwood High and was offered a contract with the Saint Louis Cardinals. His dad convinced him to go on to college where he studied Geophysics and worked in the oil exploration industry. He is survived by his wife, Margie Stadler Werth, his high school sweetheart and wife of 71 years. Henry is also survived by four children, Ed Werth of Ft. Worth, Salle Stemmons of Dallas, Robert & Joy Werth of Baton Rouge, and Penny & Jimmie T. Juhl of Simonton, Texas, along with ten grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

After working with Geosource for 45 years, Henry and Margie retired in Hideaway Lake, where they have lived for 26 years. In retirement, Henry took up golf where he excelled by shooting his age and a hole in one. Henry and Margie were active members in their church community, the Hideaway social community, and various clubs. Henry's true passions were baseball, golf, Bob Wills and his beloved wife Margie with whom he enjoyed an active travel schedule which recently included a cruise to the Virgin Islands celebrating their 70th anniversary.

A man of few words, Henry demonstrated his integrity and influence through his supportive actions and responsibility toward his family and friends. Henry was a wonderful and devoted husband, father, and grandfather to his growing family. Henry will truly be missed by all that knew and loved him.

A Memorial Service and celebration of Henry's example of living life to the fullest will be held at the Swan-Wood Springs United Methodist church, led by Pastor Marion Burgess on Saturday, May 30, 2009, at noon.

Memorials may be made to Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children 2222 Welborn Street Dallas, TX 75219 or to Swan-Wood Springs United Methodist Church 12005 Hwy. 69 North Tyler, Texas 75706.
