This tribute was perfect! I joined her Sunday school class because I wanted to glean from these ladies how they got through the ups and downs of their 70-95 year lives. They have showed me how to have unswerving faith in God, they have shown me respect and honor to others, true concern and care. I especially learned important lessons from Ms Imogene....she showed me how to walk through dark valleys, like her daughter's passing. She sat with rapt attention during our class times. She had a peaceful, accepting spirit..no judging...these to me are lifetime lessons..I will miss her!

“ Imogene was one of the kindest most giving women I know. She was an Eastern Star friend and I have spent many an hour making large cookers of chicken and spaghetti for the fund raising suppers we used to have, not to mention cleaning the lodge when it was upstairs and when we moved to the new location. She has always been one of my heroes. No matter how tough it seemed she always had a take charge positive attitude. Heaven has definitely welcomed another saint. I will miss her sweet smile and loving hugs. She blessed my life. May God grant all who mourn peace and comfort.

“ I knew her for such a short time, but feel like I've known her for a lifetime. She introduced her self to me, as Mamaw, from that moment on, I loved her. May God bless each of you during this loss, but what precious memories you must of made during her lifetime. A beautiful lady, loving and so pleasant to be around. RIP, Ms.Imogene.

“ Heaven is richer today with Imogene's arrival. She was a wonderful, vibrant woman, and she shared her faith with all who knew her. The saying, "...and they know we are Christians by our love..." certainly applied to her. My thoughts and prayers go to her family.
