“ There were so many memories I have of my grandma. From several decades ago where she took me to her daycare and I would listen to her read a book to the class, or how I was amazed by her ocean in a bottle creation. She always had “mittens” (mints) in her pockets, and I could always count on her for one or a piece (or more) of candy in her candy dish. She would give the best hugs! She would always ask what I was making for dinner and if I was making a salad with it. She loved my kids and they loved her! I miss her every day.
