“Marian was a special person in my life, almost like a second mother. We met as neighbors in Hideaway and she soon became a mentor to me as a teacher, and a friend to me on many levels. We would often sit for hours as she would listen to me and offer advice when I needed it. She was the sound of reason when I needed it and was like a second grandmother to my son, Brandon, who has autism. She loved him as her own and showed me how to teach him many life skills, such as using a knife to cut his food, eating a corn on a cob, loading a dishwasher, and proper conversation on the phone. She always saw such great potential in Brandon even when others couldn't see it. Even when she went to live in the Assisted Living, we would talk on the phone frequently and visit when we could. My family loved Marian and will miss her dearly.

“ The passing of Marian deeply saddened me and I am very sorry for your loss.

Find comfort and peace in knowing, that Marian was loved by many people and will always have a place in our heart.

I got to know her in 1964 when she lived in our house while stationed here in Heilbronn/Germany with Charles and in all the years she was a very dear friend to me and my family.

Remembering when they came back to visit us here in Germany, the trip we took to Switzerland and the wonderful days we had in Bellinzona – Ticino/Switzerland. Our friend has gone and is now with her husband Charles, who preceded her in death, but we will always and forever cherish our precious memories.

“ Marian was a dear friend of mine and we taught side by side for years at Lindale Junior High! She instilled a deep passion for special needs children in my daughter's heart and she is now a special needs teacher who models the things Marian taught her. Marian and her late husband, Charles, were strong Christian warriors and were in our lives for years. We've grown apart since our ages have required us to adapt to new ways of living, but this lady leaves a legacy of love, of caring, of honesty, of dedication to hundreds of students and friends. I'll miss her.

Pat Seeley

I came to know Marian when her family lived in Bedford, TX.....and what a dear person she was! After I'd known her a few months and heard her stories about her special needs students, I really came to appreciate what a special person she was and that it definitely took someone with her gifts to teach these special kids ways to make the most of their lives!

We picked each other's daughters up from school and harassed one another in the kitchen (she thought cooking spray was poisonous, while I used it liberally). I was very sad when she moved back to Louisiana to teach one additional month in order to receive a full pension from there to go along with the one from Texas!

I'm sure there were multiple hosts of friends awaiting her arrival in Heaven, but she would have gone straight to Jesus - and I think He would have reunited her with Charles!

Kristin, I'm so sorry for this great loss!

Dearest Kristin and DeAnna, thinking of all of y'all and sending prayers for comfort and peace and quiet reflection💕💕. Your mom will always hold a special place in my heart mostly for our joint commitment to doing everything we could to support Kristin's and Vicki's precious friendship through our relocation to MN and back again to Texas 😊. She was the most tender of souls, she leaned in before it was popular, it was so natural for her. And her laugh that was more of a giggle to me always brought comfort. I think we laughed with her at at her sometimes lololol!!! She seemed to balance her career and her family effortlessly, always planning for both. She will continue to reside in my heart and memories💕💕. Love to you both. Donna Martin
