“Fond, fond memories. Sheila, Martha, and I grew up as next-door neighbors, initially on North Henry as kids, then on US 69 (called Rural Route 3 by the postal service at the time, but now called Main Street) as adolescents and teenagers. The memories are many, but center around the days in North Henry in a neighborhood with a lot of kids, no locked doors, and no need for an invitation. We spent countless hours burning up the sunshine by climbing trees, making believe, playing games, running, riding bikes, and whatever else we could think of to pass the time. Martha was a tomboy and great companion. She could always be counted on to help me get into mischief (as I could be for her if the situation called for it; actually, neither one of us needed a great deal of help). When I drive by there occasionally now, it is hard to believe how small those yards were; they seemed boundless at the time, possibly because we crossed among them without a second thought.

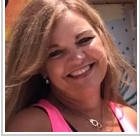

Life's journey took all of us on very different paths, but our families have remained close for more than six decades. When my parents went through difficult illnesses a few years ago, Imogene was always there to help; the same was true when my mother had pneumonia over 50 years ago. That is a type of friendship and support that is rare and to be cherished.

Prior commitments prevent me from being there, but my thoughts and prayers are with all of you. I hope that you find peace and comfort in the memories of a lifetime.

Lovingly--

“ Martha was a wonderful & devoted friend to so many. Her laughter and stories will be missed. She was one of a kind and did everything "her way" and that was another thing to love about her. I will truly miss her friendship. Prayers to the family.
