“ Tomorrow is her birthday, she would be 72. She was born on labor day and I just realized her birthday this year is on labor day. I miss her so very much. I wish she had gotten to see her great grandchildren that were born and her step great grandchildren after she passed away. My daughter Amie looks so much like her and has her personality. When I look in the mirror I see her looking back at me. I cant come up with the words to descibe how much me and Andy, my husband, miss her. Our 5 children really miss seeing their grandma.

Happy Birthday Mom! I love YOU!
