“ I only got to know Shawn for a couple of years, after taking the manager job for the O'Reilly auto parts in town. Every time I talked to him he tried to be positive even if he was in pain. He will be missed in our little town.

I knew Shawn for ten or so years. We really become close as I was diagnosed with stage 4 cancer. Shawn was a shining light for me. He and I joined a prayer vigil for each other and continued to lift each other up till he left this old problem world and went home to be with the Lord. I will miss Shawn. I am glad to say that I will join him in heaven one day and we will continue our friendship.
