“ I exchanged greetings with Troy a number of times at our American Legion Post 15 in Lindale, TX, most often when he would come see out for our events, or our work days. And on occasion we'd bump into each other when we were out and about in the village. We'd never been formally introduced, but he always extended his hand with a cordial smile on his face. In reading the obituary, I was pleasantly surprised to see thst Troy and my middle daughter have a common bond. Whereas Troy was born on foreign soil in Strasbourg, France in 1962 when his father and mother were there on military assignment, and my daughter was born at Paris-American Hospital in 1963 when I and my family were there for a 3 yr military assignment, at Camp des Loges in Saint Germain en Laye, 7 miles from Paris. Twenty yrs after we left France we were priveleged to take our daughter back to visit her roots. I hope Troy was also afforded that privelege. He was a nice young man and I regret I didn't take the time to get to know Troy better.
